Your guide to the good life in South Florida

TRUMPING SOUTH FLORIDA

Donald and Marla turn their attention to the Mar-a-Lago Club and points south.

Mar-a-Lago isn't The Donald's only South Florida venture.

He has purchased two mansions adjacent to Mar-a-Lago — he's renting them out.

He's eyeing land on South Beach too, in a venture with Thomas Kramer, whom Trump says is "very much misunderstood. His heart is in the right place."

If Trump does do a project on South Beach, you can bet it will be something B-I-G.

"I don't want to do 15 buildings. I want to do one incredible building. If I'm going to do a building, it's going to be so dynamite it's going to blow out the world."

The name? You guessed it: Trump Tower Miami.
